Mizutani et al

Mitamura et al and Mizutani et al disclose coolant composition comprising coolant and rust/corrosion preventive additive. Mizutani et al discribe the base material to be a solution of glycol.

The examiner has identified the following defects in the application:

Claims 1-14 do not comply with Section 28.3 of the Patent Act. The subject matter of these claims would have been obvious on the claim date to a person skilled in the art or science to which they pertain having regard to Mitamura et al or Mizutani et al ans the state of the art.

Claim 1 does not comply with Section 2 of the Patent Act because the above claim is incomplete and fails to recite sufficient elements for proper operation of the invention. Applicant is required to define the workable base material, rust-preventive additive, their amounts and ratios as taught in the description.

Claims 1, 8, 9 and 10 do not comply with Subsection 27(4) of the Patent Act. The inclusion of "substantially" in claim 1, "about" in claims 8 and 9 and "especially" in claim 10 causes a lack of clarity.

In view of the foregoing defects, the applicant is requisitioned, under Subsection 30(2) of the Patent Rules, to amend the application in order to comply with the Patent Act and the Patent Rules or to provide arguments as to why the application does comply.

Under Section 34 of the Patent Rules, any amendment made in response to this requisition must be accompanied by a statement explaining the nature thereof, and how it overcomes each of the above objections.

Amendment to avoid references cited abroad may expedite the prosecution. In accordance with Subsection 29(3) of the Patent Rules, if the particulars are not available to the applicant, the reason why must be stated.
